Since many online games have their own economies, it is possible to make a significant amount of money through playing those games (as well as copying others).

As the economy is largely driven by player interaction, both positive and negative elements, this has led many players to claim that there is an inherent conflict of interest between game developers and users; in other words, "who pays gets spoiled?".

ROBLOX released its first Android app on October 13, 2021. The app is currently available in English and has over 2 million downloads on Google Play. It was launched for iOS on December 17, 2021. The application allows players to create games and play previously published ones, but does not allow for publishing of user made items or models. On May 30, 2021 ROBLOX released a new version of its app called Ava (ROBLOX's Mobile Application). See above section for more details.

On July 3rd, 2021, ROBLOX announced that they were no longer allowing people to make custom models for their games. Instead, they would be allowing users to build blocky models that could not be edited at all. They stated that this would prevent the creation of custom models and save money by preventing expensive data transfers.[22] The change was made in order to clean up the game because custom models complicates the "Roblox experience" in some cases.
